

A photograph of a splash pad at a park. The splash pad is a large, irregularly shaped area with a blue mat. In the center, there are several colorful arches (red, blue, yellow, green) that spray water. To the right, there is a large, blue, flower-shaped fountain with a yellow center. In the background, there are trees, a fence, and some people sitting on lounge chairs. The sky is overcast.

The Splash Pad has been repaired and is now open!

Batting cages remain closed until further notice.